

Phil Ruthven, Chairman IBISWorld Presents The State of the Economy & Industries at Risk

Is everything as rosy as some economists would have us think? Whilst interest rates in Australia are at historic lows and we remain in relatively good financial shape when compared to other Western Economies, what lies beneath needs to be understood.

During the calendar years 2010, 2011 and 2012 we have seen corporate insolvency levels across Australia increase on average at almost 4.5% per annum. Further, many SMEs are also reported continued periods of reduced or static profits.

Interestingly, household debt levels also remain at near historical highs, despite some media commentary to the contrary. Will this lead to an increase in personal insolvencies?

Join us to hear Mr. Phil Ruthven, Chairman of IBISWorld discuss the state of the economy and industries that may be at risk in the short term. Phil is a regular speaker and is widely considered one of the nations most respected strategists and futurist on business, social and economic matters.

We sincerely hope that you will be able to join us on this informative evening.

Kind regards,
The Principals
